

YOSHIMOTO ORTON-GILLINGHAM BASIC TRAINING

Welcome to Day 4

Picture Deck Review

Fast

Large sky writing

Two fingers

Elbows off the table – use whole arm

Main Card Deck Review

No sky writing or letter names

Key words as needed

Sounds / rules only

The O-G Lesson

READING (DECODING)

- Card deck
- Words to read

SPELLING (ENCODING)

- Create a sound bank
- Words to spell

REVIEW PHONOGRAM

NEW PHONOGRAM

- WTR
- WTS

CONCEPTS

- Spelling rule
- Syllabication
- Grammar

LEARNED WORD

- Review
- New

DICTATION

- Sentences
- Extension

ORAL READING

- Repeated reading
- Paired reading
- Structured reading
- NIM

Six Syllable Types

Closed

always taught first vowel sound is short

a, e, i, o, u, y*

VCe (Magic/Bossy e)

○ Vowel sound is long

○ a-e, e-e, i-e, o-e, u-e, y-e

Open

○ Vowel sound is long

○ a, e, i, o, u, y

R-controlled

○ ar, er, ir, or, ur, ear, air (+ more)

Vowel Teams

○ ai, ou, au, ea, igh, ow

○ Lots of these!

-Cle

○ -ple, -ble, -zle, -fle, -gle (+ more)

Syllabication

At -ck → closed syllables → rabbit syllable division

After Magic-e → reptile syllable division

Older students → start syllable types and division straight away after single letter-sounds

By 3rd Grade - most of the sounds and syllables scope and sequence will be covered

A syllable is...

A word or a part of word that has ONE vowel sound

“a push of the breath”

Closed Syllables

Has a SINGLE vowel letter

• a e i o u y

Ends with a consonant(s)

The sound we use for the vowel is the short sound

cat v c a

/ a / apple

e

/ e / egg

i

/ i / igloo

o

/ o / ox

u

/ u / up

VCe Syllable

Has a SINGLE vowel letter + e

- a-e e-e i-e o-e u-e y-e
- The <e> is split off and put at the end after ONE consonant
- The vowel sound is LONG
- The e is silent

cape v c e a-e cake

e-e eve

i-e bike

o-e home

u-e mule

Open Syllables

Has a SINGLE vowel letter

- a e i o u y

Ends with a single vowel letter

The sound we use for the vowel is the long sound

↓
hē

R-Controlled Vowel Syllable

A vowel (or vowel team)

followed by an r

ar or er ir ur

air eer ear oar

The r changes the sound of the vowel that we say

car

ar

car

or corn er fern ir bird

ur

church

Vowel Team Syllables

Has 2-4 letters representing a

SINGLE Vowel SOUND

A long vowel sound

OR

A diphthong

b ee

igh

light

ai

rain oy

boy

ee

feet

eigh

eight

-cle (Consonant -le)

Always at the END of a word

Always 3 letters

Always ending in -le

/ul/

An unaccented final syllable containing a consonant and -le c<sup>ə</sup>le

bub/ble

han/dle

cir/cle

hum/ble

jun/gle

tram/ple

-ble

-fle

-dle

-ple

-tle

-gle

Activity

Open / Closed Syllable Doors

Open / Closed Syllable Sorts

Rabbit Rule

VC | CV

rab | bit

Reptile Rule

VC | CV

rep | tile

Penny Rule

VC | CV

pen | ny

Sunny Rule

VC | CV

sun| ny

Tulip Rule

v | CV

tu | lip

sabo

sabo

Camel Rule

V C | V

cam | el

Morphology

Meaningful units in a word

Divide words based on meaning

Prefixes, root words, suffixes

re] ject [ing

ex] port [er

Morphology

Increases vocabulary development, therefore, increasing reading comprehension.

Critical for maths, science and other integrated studies such as history.

Improves spelling.

The O-G Lesson

READING (DECODING)

- Card deck / sounds
- Words to read

SPELLING (ENCODING)

- Create a sound bank
- Words to spell

REVIEW PHONOGRAM

NEW PHONOGRAM

- WTR
- WTS

CONCEPTS

- Spelling rule
- Syllabication
- Grammar

Final silent-e

Floss rule

Soft/hard c and g

LEARNED WORD

- Review
- New

DICTATION

- Sentences
- Extension

ORAL READING

- Repeated reading
- Paired reading
- Structured reading
- NIM

have

But the e is using all its power to hold up the v.

Many Jobs of the Silent e

Converting the preceding vowel to a long sound is only one of the important duties the Silent E performs. The versatile and multi-tasking Silent E actually has seven different

1

Job #1: Silent E makes the vowel sound before it long, as in plate and wrote.

2

Job #2: Silent E can make c and g soft, as in dance and large.

3

Job #3: Silent E keeps i, u, and v from being the last letter in a word, as in pie, true, and give.

4

Job #4: Silent E can show that the word is not plural, as in dense, tease, and lapse (which would otherwise look like dens, teas, and laps).

5

Job #5: Silent E adds a vowel to syllables with the consonant+|+e syllable pattern, as in bundle and puzzle.

6

Job #6: Silent E makes TH say its second sound, /~~th~~/, as in teethe and bathe.

7

Job #7: Silent E clarifies the meaning of the word, as in the word pairs by → bye and aw → awe.

Silent E can also be added to Rule Breakers, such as came, are, where, shoe, were, and there. In these words, the reason for Silent E isn't obvious.

Phonological Awareness

Three levels of development

Early phonological awareness

1

Rhyme
Alliteration Clapping number of syllables

Basic phonemic
awareness

2

Phoneme segmentation Blending of single-syllable words without consonant blends (leads to decoding

Advanced phonemic
awareness

3

Substitute sounds in a spoken word Reverse sounds in a word

Critical to Orthographic Mapping

The Developmental Relationship Between Phonological Skills and Word-Level Reading

Phonological Skill Development

1. Early Phonological Awareness

Rhyming, first sounds, syllable segmentation

2. Basic Phoneme Awareness

Blending and segmentation

3. Advanced Phonemic Awareness/Proficiency

Automatic, unconscious access to phonemes in spoken words

Word Reading Skill Development

1. Letter Names and Letter Sounds

Phonological storage and retrieval

2. Phonic Decoding and Encoding (Spelling)

3. Orthographic Mapping

Efficient memory for printed words; rapid sight vocabulary expansion

Scope and Sequence

Kinder/Prep/Reception/Foundation

Focus on language, phonological awareness, pre-reading skills, letter recognition, sounds.

When to teach CVC, CCVC, CVCC.

When to introduce words, phrases, learned words.

Can use these resources with severe dyslexia, EAL students.

Scope and Sequence

Kinder/Prep/Reception/Foundation

Use the terminologies –consonant, vowel, short/long sound

Base words – a word that stands alone

(Root – can't stand alone. Needs a prefix or suffix)

Suffixes: -ed, -ing, -s

Prefixes: un-, mis-, re-

Where to begin?

Older students

EAL students

How to use the card deck to assess

How frequently to introduce a new phonogram?

Depends on your student(s) K-Year 2: 2-4 per week

Spelling is a challenge – can go too fast

Crunch when you can for older students

-ng all in one lesson

-nk all in one lesson

Floss, -ck, -tch, -dge – all in one lesson.

3 sounds of –ed

Vce – all at once oi/oy

oi/oy

How frequently to introduce a new phonogram?

K/Prep: 1/week initially, with the focus on handwriting. ↑2/week when you can.

Large focus initially not on reading words but on sounds, phonological awareness, handwriting.

Slow down when you get to vowel teams

Takes longer to consolidate spelling choices → syllabication

Older students → syllables, morphology

Tracking Progress

Kade – 5th August, 2019

- The black truck was on the bridge.
- The gudge had a sick duck.
- I pledge to kick the frog into the sinck.

Kade – 9th October, 2020

Kade is one of the most fantastic kids I know. He is a thoughtful, young man who likes to gobble fruit and drink juice all day.

In the future, Kade plans to grab a suit and go on a cruise to see remote castles.

Kate hopes that she will get an invitation to this adventure.

Kade – 11th November, 2020

Last night I quietly cried when I picked up my daughter's veil. It was beige insted of white. I thought it may be suitable, but I was completeley wrong. I called the young contractor and requested that a new one had to be made. I believe that I will receive a pretty replacement on Thursday.