

SCOPE AND SEQUENCE: KINDERGARTEN

by Ronald Yoshimoto, Fellow, AOGPE

Listening Skills <----->	Phonological Awareness <----->	Pre-reading skills ----->
Listen to gain/understand info Listen to follow directions Listen to books read loud for story elements Listen for rhyming words	Rhyming, alliteration, phoneme counting, syllable counting, segmentation sound deletion, syllable deletion, <-----> matching sounds, blending, segmentation, manipulation,	left/right, top/bottom of page, parts of a book (cover, page) difference between word and letter, beginning/middle/end of a word, reading from left to right
--> Alphabet Recognition -----> Letter/sound/key word/kinesthetic/handwriting Associations <-----> Oral Language (receptive/expressive) Letter recognition Sequencing of letters Alphabetic order Fluency in letter recognition	a, t, b, l, f, h, p: s, u, m, r, c, g, i, n, d: o, j, v, w, e: x, k, y, z, qu: sh, th, ch, wh:	May start blending vc and then cvc words after "p" Continue blending cvc words May introduce "sh" after "i" Sentence reading and decodable texts Spelling of words after "m" Dictation of phrases after "i" Begin introduction of List One Learned words (a, I, the, is) Blend cvc words Dictation - short sentence Continue List One learned words Decode nonsense words Begin cvc blending if ready "sh" may be introduced earlier after "short i"
letter combinations: (ank, ink, onk, unk) (ang, ong, ung, ing)	blend of longer words; decodable texts; continue with spelling and dictation; begin word fluency - start with short vowel cvc words.

*Flexibility is the key.